PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Product marketer who has owned positioning, launches, content and growth for B2B and technical products since 2018, across North America, Africa and Europe. I write everything I publish myself, and I run my own marketing on Claude Code with agent skills and workflows I built and keep running. Most of my product marketing has been for technical buyers, from a form builder repositioned for a technical audience to developer-tool comparison pages and an AI answer audit tool written in Python. More at jamespraise.xyz/work/getblock.
