PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Marketer who writes for technical audiences and runs his own publishing on AI agents, with a person approving every post. I use Claude Code, MCP servers and agent skills every day, and I publish 34 of the 81 agent skills I built at github.com/realjaymes/marketingagentskills. The repo had 287 unique cloners in the last 14 days. I grew the Marketing In Action newsletter to 5,000+ subscribers in 86 countries through content, webinars, borrowed audiences and recommendation swaps, and at Cecure Intelligence I built a 20,000+ member community across five African countries. My content calendar runs on scheduled agents that read X twice a day and send me candidate posts, and I make the carousels, statics and short videos myself. I am a Claude Community Ambassador and co-host Marketing & Chill, a marketer meetup in Lagos. More at jamespraise.xyz/work/linux-foundation-aaif.

- Write the weekly newsletter and grew it to 5,000+ subscribers in 86 countries through content, SEO, webinars, borrowed audiences from other communities and Substack recommendation swaps.
- Run distribution on Claude Code skills: one approved issue becomes platform drafts for Substack, X and LinkedIn, I approve each before it publishes, and a daily sync logs every live post and its numbers in one registry.
- Run the content calendar on scheduled agents: twice-daily briefs of candidate posts, approved posts published at set times on four channels, and an alert when the calendar is running low.
- Make the creative in-house: carousels and statics from HTML templates, short videos in Remotion rendered at 16:9 for LinkedIn and X and 9:16 for Reels and Shorts.
- Co-host Marketing & Chill in Lagos twice a year for 60 to 80 marketers, built the WhatsApp community around the newsletter, and use a Claude Code skill that drafts the pre-event and post-event posts for every event I speak at or attend.
- Built and use 81 agent skills for content, SEO, paid and analytics work, and published 34 on GitHub with a beginner guide so other marketers can install them.
